

A map showing a complex network of red lines representing a river system. The network is denser in the upper-left quadrant and sparser in the upper-right quadrant. Two black rectangular boxes highlight these areas: one in the upper-left labeled 'Dense region' and one in the upper-right labeled 'Sparse region'. The background is a light gray map with some blue lines representing other water bodies.

Sparse region

Dense region